Carmel Unincorporated Board of directors wrote a letter to the county planning commission yesterday suggesting that the commission consider including the two lots north of Seagull house on Carmel Point on the county master plan for acquisition for public use. The three lots south have already been acquired. These lots lie between Scenic Drive and the coast line.

The Lobos League has also written a letter to the county planning commission. They ask that all the unimproved property between the roadway on the Point and the shore be acquired for parkway.

The Lobos League also requested that:

Top priority be given Garrapata Beach for acquisition in view of possible subdivision development.

Investigation be made into the threat of logging on the Little Sur, which has been moved out of the five and into the ten year plan for acquisition as a state beach and park.

The finger of the lagoon on the south edge of Carmel River be acquired and added to the Carmel River State Beach.

The matching fund principle be re-established so that advantage can be taken of donations of property and funds in acquiring beaches and parks. That the matching fund supplement and not supersede the present arrangement. The Owings beach, which was added to Point Lobos State Park as a gift from the owners is assessed at $9000. The value of this beach, under the matching fund principle, could have been credited to the county to facilitate acquisition of other beaches. Francis Whitaker pointed out that Monterey County has acquired no beaches or parks since the matching fund principle was dropped. Everything we have has been acquired through matching funds with the state, and through gifts.

The county planning commission meets Tuesday at 9:00 o'clock, and is faced with a number of issues, topmost, perhaps, the master plan, which was presented to them last month by the property owners, for eight miles along Highway 1 from Malpaso Creek to Bixby Creek. The planners made a field trip over the area Friday and admired the magnificent scenery, meanwhile trying to visualize the concentration of homes to be built on half-acre lots between the coast road and the shore.

Then, Monday, the County Board of Supervisors, after listening to a report by County Planning Commission Secretary Ed DeMars and County Road Commissioner Bruce McClain decided that Monterey County would join San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz Counties in their effort to get National Parkway status for Highway 1.

This is splendid, and would preserve the scenery, but there's still that tiresome business of where's the money coming from? An act of congress would put the road, from San Francisco to San Simeon—eliminating the strip from Santa Cruz to Carmel—under the jurisdiction of the department of interior, which administers the national parks. The federal government would build the road, except Recipes by the thousands are turned out by Mrs. Elaine Carse, left, and Miss Dorothy Wright, Carmel High School vice principal, for the Symphony Guild's gourmet party, November 4, at the Mission Ranch.

The event, featuring several tables laden with exotic dishes, will offer the public an opportunity to buy copies of the recipes. Mrs. Carse is chairman of the recipe committee.

Planners Want More Landscaping For P. O. Addition

The Carmel Planning Commission was disturbed yesterday, to find that less than the required amount of landscaping area had been allowed in the plans for enlarging the Carmel Post Office.

Post office property owners James Lee and Maurice Hanssens submitted preliminary plans, prepared by the architectural firm of Elston and Cranston, at the planning commission study session.

Commissioner Herbert Blank felt that the owners were morally obligated to provide that a minimum two percent of the post office site area be left as open landscaping space after previous oral commitments. The plans studied by commissioners yesterday afternoon did not provide 320 square feet of landscaping area, the minimum two percent requirement for the six-lot business district site.

Harrison Godwin, owner of Pine Inn, submitted a parking area plan to commissioners for study yesterday afternoon. Mr. Godwin wishes

A Toy To Every Kid At Hallowe'en Party

The tenth community Hallowe'en children's costume party, sponsored by the Carmel Kiwanis Club, will begin at 7:00 o'clock on October 31 on the north playfield at Sunset School.

At last Thursday's Kiwanis luncheon, Eugene Harrah, general chairman for the event, showed other Kiwanis members samples of toys which will be given to all children wearing costumes at the Hallowe'en party. He has purchased over 700 toys ranging in price from $10 to a few cents.

The Hallowe'en party will begin with a Grand March past the judges. Each child in costume will be given a toy at the reviewing stand. Special prizes will be presented for the best costumes in various age groups with a grand prize of a $25 Savings Bond for the costume judged best of all.

Symphony Season Opens Wednesday With New Conductor

A new experience awaits music-lovers when the Monterey County Symphony opens its fourteenth season, October 28 at Carmel's Sunset School auditorium and October 29 at Salinas High School auditorium.

At 8:30 each of these nights the curtain will rise on the orchestra performing under the baton of 33-year-old Earl Bernard Murray. Best known as a protege of Pierre Monteux, the new conductor also leads the San Diego Symphony and is music director of the San Francisco Ballet. Until coming here, he was assistant conductor of the San Francisco Symphony.

For the opening concert the symphony will play: Handel's Music for the Royal Fireworks, Brahms' Variation on a Theme of Haydn, Leonard Ratner's Harlequin: Overture for Orchestra, and Cesar Frank's Symphony in D Minor.

Ratner, a Stanford music professor, is expected to attend the symphony's performance of his Harlequin, which he completed in 1957. The composer describes it as "an impression of a mood and manner of traditional, improvised comedy, having as its prototype the commedia dell'arte of Renaissance times...in keeping with the kaleidoscopic effects intended, we hear episodes which employ the strident harmonies of contemporary music."

Concertino for Trumpet and String Orchestra, latest composition of Leonard G. Ratner, will be performed by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra early next year. Its premiere performance will feature Donald Reinberg, the orchestra's first trumpeter. The work was commissioned by the late Miss Lottie Goldstein through a grant to the Composers' Forum. Subsequent County Symphony concerts are scheduled in Salinas December 7, March 7 and May 9. On the night following each date the program will be repeated in Carmel.

Farr Asks Brown To Help Protect Scenic Highway 1

State Senator Fred Farr revealed today he has asked the support of Governor Edmund G. Brown in the battle to keep the more scenic of California's state roads, and particularly Highway 1 south of Carmel, from being developed as through traffic arteries with resulting destruction of unique scenic assets.

The Monterey County Senator said he has written Governor

Carmel Has Reached 47 Percent Of Its Chest Quota Already

Fifty per cent of the Carmel residential area Community Chest quota has already been collected, according to Brayton Witherall, executive secretary of the Community Chest. So far returns in the business district amount to 40 percent of this area's quota. This means Carmel has already raised 47 percent of its $37,000 quota.

Pebble Beach has contributed 60 percent of its quota of $31,850.

"Carmel response to the Community Chest campaign is gratifying," Mr. Witherall said yesterday. "Carmel people realize the necessity of contributing to Chest agencies."

The Carmel Youth Center will receive $10,600 from the Community Chest this year, he emphasized.

Distinguished Cars And Judges For Saturday's Concours

Over 100 entries have been received for the 10th Annual Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance, which will be held Saturday from 11:00 until 4:00 o'clock on the lawn between Del Monte Lodge and the 18th hole of the Pebble Beach Golf Course.

There is no charge to spectators for the Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance, which has become known throughout the country as the finest exhibition of museum-piece automobiles ever assembled.

A feature of this year's show is the special Rolls Royce Class. Alton H. Walker of Pebble Beach, noted collector of antique and classic automobiles, will exhibit a 1932 Rolls Royce roadster which he drove out from New York last week; and down from Yakima, Washington, will be Marc Messinger, former San Francisco art director, with a 1925 Rolls Royce Piccadilly roadster.

The very popular Antique Class has entries which include a 1904 Reo, 1903. Stevens-Duryea, 1918 Stutz Bearcat, 1910 Chalmers-Detroit, 1911 White and several Model T Fords.

Lou Fageol's Fiat-Fageol will head the list of European Sports Cars over $10,000. This beautiful model, which the Faegols have driven out from their home in Kent, Ohio, has taken first in its class at a number of Concours in the East and Middle West. Lou Fageol is probably as well known in the Gold Cup motorboat racing field as he is for his interest in automobiles. He raced in the 1955 Pebble Beach Sports Car Races.

Brown asking that the 1960 Special Session at Sacramento consider legislation creating an official category of "California Scenic Highways," in whose further development scenic, esthetic, historical and recreational values would be given first consideration, rather than rapid traffic handling.

"There are many state routes that are deserving of this special consideration," Farr said, listing as examples, besides the Monterey County portion of Highway 1, several state roads through the Mother Lode country, most of Highway 1 in Marin, Sonoma and Humboldt counties and State Highway 89 in the vicinity of Emerald Bay.

Under Farr's proposed legislation, standards would be established for routes that would qualify for protection as "California Scenic Highways." Such highways, Farr believes, should be posted where practical to divert trucks and high-speed traffic. The Monterey senator also proposes the creation of local citizens' advisory commissions which the Division of Highways would consult before undertaking any change or improvement that might affect the scenic, esthetic, historical or recreational nature of a "California Scenic Highway."

The Scenic Highway concept, Farr pointed out, would in no way conflict with proposals to include the Carmel-San Simeon portion of Highway 1 in a projected Federal Parkway running south from San Francisco. Instead, he felt, it would assist the creation of such a Parkway by protecting the scenic assets of the highway until a transfer to Federal jurisdiction may be made.

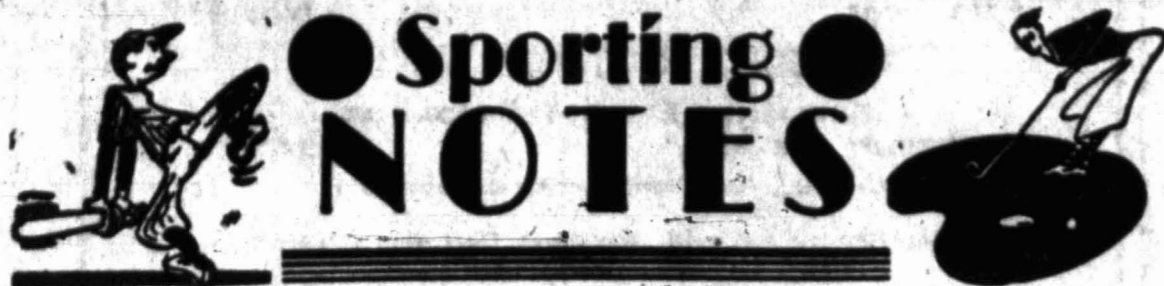

"And," he added, "in the event that Congress should not see fit to include Monterey County's part of Highway 1 in such a system, or that the requirements laid down by Congress should prove unacceptable to local opinion, we would have something solid to fall back on if this spectacular stretch of Highway 1 already enjoyed protected status as a California Scenic Highway under my proposed legislation."

Four Carmel Drivers In Sports Car Races Saturday And Sunday

Speed, spins and plenty of action are on the agenda this weekend when more than 100 of the West Coast's top drivers compete for honors at the Laguna Seca Sports Car Road Races.

A dozen entries have been received from sports car drivers on the Peninsula. Carmel drivers who plan to race for the winning checkered flag include Tom Handley, Ed Leslie, Ray Wermuth and Ray Ramsey. Carmel Valley is represented by Jerry Lefler and

HOMECOMING GAME AT PADRE CAMPUS THIS SAT.

With the CCAL B-division league lead at stake, Carmel High's varsity and junior-varsity football squads play host to the dangerous Gonzales Spartans in this Saturday's Homecoming Game. Replete with a Queen and all the trimmings, the final home game of the season matches the Spartan speed with the Padre power. Gonzales is an all-the-way-in-one-play type of ball club and is dangerous from any position on the field. The scrappy Spartans led the powerful Gilroy Mustangs by a 14-13 score in the final quarter last Friday night but fumbled away the win in the last few minutes. Operating with a multiple offense, the Spartans show a straight T, a single-wing, and a winged-T as they attempt to shake loose their speed backs.

The Padre varsity had a bye last week and should be in top condition for the invasion of the Spartans this Saturday. Recent practice sessions have ironed out the weak blocking spots and the pass defense has been overhauled in an effort to patch up the leaks. Although the hard-tackling Padres have shown stubborn resistance to the ground game, their opponents have moved the ball via the overhead route and have consistently burned the Carmel secondary with the deep passes.

In Saturday's game, Captain Toby Edson will lead an offensive unit of Doyle Clayton and himself at ends; Tim Mitchell and Chris Wilkin, tackles; Ronnie Adams and Nick Molitor, guards; Harrison Hilbert, center; Ron Faia and Mike Draper, halfbacks; Dave Hansen, fullback; and Frank Mayo, quarterback. On defense, the Padres will go with Edson and LeNeve, ends; Mitchell and Chris Wilkin, tackles; Doug McClurg and Hilbert, guards; Fred Bucher and Paul Rice, linebackers; Darrell Clark and Bill Coleman, halfbacks; and Russ Wise, safety.

Saturday's 12:00 o'clock preliminary game matches the Gonzales and Carmel junior varsity teams in a game which favors the junior-laden Padre squad. Coach Rainer's veteran aggregation will open with Scott Forbes and Mike Quarrie, ends; Frank Preve and Scott Davis, tackles; Tony Schaurer and Tony Steliga, guards; David Faulkner, center; Frank Bucher, quarterback; Brook Scherman and John Draper, halfbacks; and Danny Moore, fullback.

ACORNS FALL AT BARDARSON FIELD

Carmel High's junior-varsity football squad made a successful debut into varsity competition last Saturday afternoon as it took the measure of the Live Oak Acorns, 24 to 6, in a well-played game at Carmel's Bardarson Field. The Carmel lads packed too much experience for the green Live Oak gridders and capitalized on the numerous Acorn mistakes to establish game control early in the going. Pinpoint passing by quarterback Frank Bucher and the hard running of backs John Draper, Brook Scherman, and Danny Moore overpowered the Live Oak defense and racked up over 350 yards for the Padre jayvees.

In Saturday's preliminary tussle, the Carmel lightweights earned a draw with the Live Oak limiteds and showed a good knowledge of football fundamentals as they battled to the 6-6 deadlock. Sparked by quarterback Dan Holman and fullback Marlin Fluegge, the Little Padres played the Live Oak squad on even terms throughout the contest. Live Oak's Mike Silacci put his team on the scoreboard in the first quarter as he powered off tackle for the opening score. The Carmel midgets came back to get the lockup touchdown in the second heat with Fluegge breaking through the middle for a 45-yarder.

After probing for an opening during the entire first quarter, the Carmel jayvees hit paydirt early in the second heat as halfback John Draper took a reverse from Brook Scherman and sprinted 20 yards for the opening touchdown. Draper picked up another six in the same period after tackle Scott Davis had recovered a Live Oak fumble on the visitor's 25 yardline. Neither Carmel conversion was good and it was 12-0 midway of the second quarter. Live Oak hit the board late in the second period as Jeff Mullins passed to Bob Ferri for a 60-yard scoring effort. The Acorns were threatening to tie it up before the half ended, winding up on the Padre 8 yardline as the clock ran out. Passes from Bucher to Scott Forbes gave Rainer's Ramblers two more touchdowns in the second half and the sturdy Padrecito defense held the Acorns near the middle of the field. Top defensive players for the Carmel squad were Tony Schaurer, the best lineman on the field in this game, Tony Steliga, Scott Davis, David Faulkner, Paul Jones, and Danny Moore.

Next action for the lightweight and jayvee squads is slated for this Saturday when the Babes host the Pacific Grove midgets in a 10:00 a.m. tussle and the jayvees entertain the Gonzales junior-varsity in a 12:00 o'clock preliminary to the Gonzales-Carmel varsity tilt.

CLEAT MARKS

Coach Bill Abbey's Foothill Junior College gridders received a rough greeting from the MPC Lobos last Saturday night in Coast JC action as George Porter's charges clubbed the Owls, 42 to 24, in an action-packed game. Badly outmanned up front, the Foothill squad presented a porous defense which was riddled with power plays from end to end and with passes in front of and behind the secondary. The Lobos turned in their finest effort of the current season and appear to have easy sledding until they collide with league-favorite Hartnell on November 21st. Former Carmel High players, Mike Ricketts, Dick Ogden, Joe Mason, and Dennis Peavey all had a hand in the Lobo victory over Foothill with Ricketts and Peavey adding to the point total. The Lobos travel to Martinez for a league joust with Diablo Junior College this Saturday night...Strained relations and post-game action has threatened to terminate the Monterey High-Pittsburg High scheduling. Fiery competition has always been the trademark of the Toreadore-Pirate game but the play on the field has been according to the grid code. Extra-curricular action by football fans following the game has resulted in numerous instances where police action has been necessary to break up the scrimmaging in the street...Ex-Carmel High tackle Norman Colman ran into the injury jinx at Diablo Junior College last Saturday night where he was playing a lot tackle for the Hartnell Panthers. The 230-pound lineman suffered a fractured leg and will be out of action for the rest of the season. Colman was rated the best defensive lineman on the Panther squad this season and his bull-like charge will be missed by Hartnell. With Colman sent to the pits for the rest of the season, Jamie Holman is the only remaining ex- Padre on the Hartnell squad. The slender kicking specialist is the top punter in junior college circles and is sporting close to a 50-yard average...Picking a winner in the CCAL A-division football race is going to be a tough chore this year. A look at the pre-league records of the A-league teams shows all the schools except newcomer North Salinas have a good chance for the title. Salinas, Santa Cruz, Watsonville, and Monterey each has one loss in four practice games and they have all played about equal competition. Watsonville appears to be the sleeper this season off its 13-7 win over favored Salinas High last Friday night. The Wildcats have been in the doldrums for the past three seasons but could bounce back big this year.

Staged Reading Of Under Milkwood At The Studio Theatre

Wednesday Peninsula audiences will have the opportunity of seeing the Carmel premiere of Dylan Thomas' Under Milkwood. The staged reading along the lines of the Drama Quartette presentations will be given at The Studio Theatre in Carmel at 8:30 o'clock in the evening for one performance.

Richard Bailey, The Studio's managing director, is including a series of staged poetry readings in the season's schedule of experimental, classical and contemporary drama.

Under Milkwood is probably the outstanding poem to have appeared during the last decade. Originally written as a radio drama, Under Milkwood has been recorded with extraordinary success and has recently been presented both in New York and San Francisco as a stage production.

In The Studio production a cast of six will be used including Edith Dinkin, Maria Hallsted, Cliff Perry, Errol Allan, Sheila Goldes and Richard Bailey, who will direct the vehicle as well as appear as one of the cast.

SCOUT HOUSE RENOVATED

The Carmel Boy Scout House was in shining shape for the first meeting this year of Cub Scout Pack Three on October 7. The previous week end a group of parents, led by Cubmaster Donald Hays, renovated the inside of the Scout House and tidied the grounds. Three rooms were painted by the parents of the Cubs, windows were cleaned in the big meeting room, cobwebs removed from the walls and ceiling and the whole room thoroughly vacuumed. The group loaded Mr. Hays' flat-bed truck twice with trash picked up in the yard. The rubbish was carted away to the dump. Major Robert L. Wildey brought his tools to the cleanup and fixed all damaged chairs on the Scout House premises.

Members of the Scout House refurbishing group were Pack Three Cubmaster and Mrs. Donald Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Tor Spindler, Major and Mrs. R. L. Wildey, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. W. A. Van Train, Major J. L. Ramos, Mrs. W. Murphy, Carl Bensberg, Mrs. G. Baily and Scout Mike Hudson.

Pack Three has four dens this year. Den mothers are Mrs. Elizabeth Beaupre, Mrs. Allan Champe, Mrs. S. F. Catterlin and Mrs. Tor Spindler.

Church Women To Entertain Visiting Foreign Teachers

Visiting teachers from foreign countries, currently studying in colleges in the San Francisco area, will be guests of the Monterey Peninsula United Church Women at a pot-luck luncheon at St. Marys-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove on October 30, at 12:30. The group is coming from San Francisco on Friday to visit the Monterey Peninsula in the plan of seeing as much of American life as they can in the year of study here.

Last year a similar group, from Latin America, Pakistan, India, Arabian countries, was entertained in the same way by the church women and found it so much worth while that the sponsoring organizations in San Francisco asked the local U. C. W. to be hosts again this year.

Bells Ringing At The Wharf Theatre Oklahoma Is Next

Bells Are Ringing, gay musical comedy about life in a telephone answering service, will be on stage this Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evening at the Wharf Theatre on Old Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey. Curtain time is 8:30 o'clock.

The musical, which has been enjoying a highly successful run at the Wharf, stars Pat McKnight in the role created on Broadway by Judy Holliday. Bells Are Ringing is under the direction of Dale Lefler.

Wharf singers and dancers are currently in rehearsal for the forthcoming production of Oklahoma, which will light up the playhouse in November.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON
How spiritual understanding of God, good, brings unlimited strength and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" is the Golden Text from Psalms (37:27): "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore." The opening selection to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

From Proverbs the following verse will be read (4:23, 26): "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life ... Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all they ways be established."

Carmel Audience Would Have Liked More Opera On Merriman Program

BY EBEN WHITTLESEY

An artist of proven popularity opened the Carmel Music Society season Tuesday evening. Nan Merriman, mezzo-soprano, appeared on the same series two or three years ago. She was accompanied this week by Ralph Linsley, whose fine technique, particularly in baroque music, is familiar to Bach Festival audiences.

Miss Merriman has a splendidly trained voice of great versatility which lies in the middle range that is perhaps most readily understood and enjoyed by concert audiences. She is one of those widely experienced and completely poised concert artists who seems fully at ease and in complete command of the situation at all times, and who happily conveys the impression that she really enjoys sharing her gift with the public.

The program material was somewhat unusual, and left me with the feeling that I had not heard the artist reach the fully satisfying heights of lyric expression which she is obviously capable of attaining. There was a notable absence of significant operatic material in either German or Italian. The charm and versatility of style shown in her French, Spanish and English groups was impressive, but much of the material seemed to have very little permanent value as musical literature.

An unusually long, but rather interesting opening selection was The Blessed Virgin's Expostulation by Purcell. It was sung with compelling dignity in a mellow and vibrant voice. The warming-up process was completed with two airs from Handel's Xerxes. The second of these, dealing with the course of a brook, was especially pleasant in the artist's higher range.

Next came a fine bit of Mozart, Scene and Rondeau Ch'io Mi Scordi Di Ta. This began to show the artist's vocal attainments. The decorative passages and vocalise were handled with effective variety of expression. Mr. Linsley's accompaniment was very fine, and the audience responded generously.

A French group including songs by Debussy, Ravel and Mompou was presented with fine artistry and expressiveness, but became a little monotonous to this listener. Debussy's Fantoches and his settings of three poems of Francois Villon were colorful and stimulating. The Mompou, Combat del Somni was a gentle, dreamy love-song in which the singer ably created an atmosphere of musing reverie.

Seven popular Spanish songs by de Falla provided a welcome contrast, bringing the audience into scenes of lively motion and primitive color. Miss Merriman in her Spanish songs achieves great vitality without ever becoming strident or harsh. This was one of the most effective groups of the program.

The closing group was chosen with regard for what seems an unfortunate custom of closing vocal programs on a rather trivial note with a group of insignificant Irish or American folksongs. These included Think of Me, Gently, Johnny and Soldier, Soldier. Whether such material is intended to hold a tired audience in their seats till the end of the prescribed concert period, or is a sop to those who did not understand or recognize anything else in the program, I don't know, but these songs seem a waste of time for a really first-rate voice.

After staying through the popular group the audience was rewarded with four generous encores, including the Habanera from Carmen, I have a Bonnet Trimmed with Blue, and Love is Like a Little Child, arranged by Nin.

Church Women Plan World Community Day Welfare Work

World Community Day will be observed by the Church Women on November 6, at the Church of the Oaks in Del Rey Oaks.

The women are asking for donations of used clothing for infants and small children to be sent to Ghana, tropical country in Africa, as this year's mission welfare project. Each year the organization seeks donations of used clothing for selected age groups in a foreign country where the churches carry on missionary work. Contributions of money are also wanted to pay transportation costs to the foreign country. Distribution is done by Church World Service, the nation-wide interchurch men's group which has representatives in the foreign countries. Clothing donated for this purpose may be left at Carmel's All Saints' Church, Presbyterian Church, or Church of the Wayfarer by November 4.

Theme for the meeting at the Church of the Oaks is Full Partners for Peace, as the purpose of U.C.W. is to seek "the essentials for a peaceful world and to promote sharing of resources to meet urgent needs." The program begins at 11:30, followed by a sack lunch, 12:30, and afternoon program at 1:30. Mrs. Jack Warren of Seaside is president of the Peninsula-wide organization.

ROKES HAVE DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Rokes are parents of a daughter, Caroline, born at the Monterey Hospital on October 16.

Plates will be read by the health department, then results mailed by post card to those who have availed themselves of this public service.

QUINANS HAVE SECOND GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Quinan's second daughter, Ann, was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on October 10. She weighed six pounds, 12 ounces at birth. Her sister, Lynn, is six and a half years old.

BLUE LOBELIA

*In a floral garden confounded by the running watercolor of ten thousand gaudy palettes
my frail attentions fade and groping ensnare
the tiny Lobelia border;
its cool splash of blue revives and clear-eyed
I see sharp dazzling hue, sapphires in a ten-cent store.*

—E. W. NORTHNAGEL

MIDDAY MEDITATION

Silence droned like the shell from sea with a triune resonance low tone, high, and intermediate with spheres of consciousness. Silence, made discreet in hidden colorings of soul —

Confucius heard from it stresses from the deep.

*The air was sweet with yellow jasmine, a mist rose from the valley ethereal, and thin, yet a definable slenderness traced like an airy lotus flower.
Beneath the bamboo's long, lacy vivid-sectors,
upon gold, brodered mats
Confucius sat in the slender shadows of the gentle swaying bamboo
whose diagonal leaves fluctuated like his delicate thought, massive, yet translucent color—
the way an oriole perched upon an almond branch, the way a dragonfly stretched blue crackled glaze upon a fern;
all, as though he had lived the flowing of this time before,
the inmost feeling of each living thing ...*

*Only one stroke, one fluttering second of the bamboo leaf, and his rare thought had gone.
A child had brought great,
gleaming moon-gold hollyhocks into his hand.*

—VERA LA CLAUSTRA.

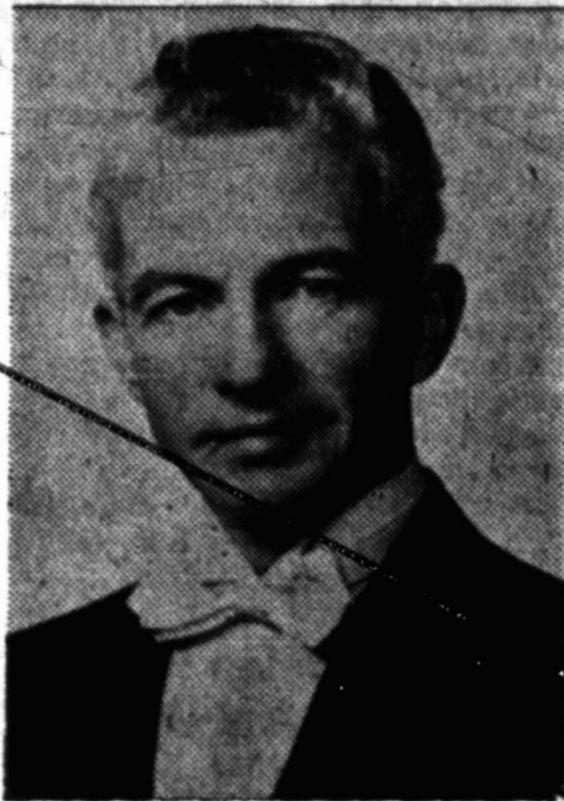

MYSTERY

*A door opens softly,
No one is there;
Is that a faint footfall
Out on the stair?*

*I hear the wind whisper,
What would it tell?
Hold your breath—listen—
Is it gladness or knell?*

*There are white souls around us,
There is flutter of wings!
In my heart's secret chamber Hope smiles and sings!*

—ELIZABETH WILLIAMS COSGROVE

Friday night in the Sunset Auditorium the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and the Carmel Adult School District will present Rocky Mountain Rambles, a color film record of Emerson Scott's travels in the Rockies. Mr. Scott will be here in person to narrate his films.

He will show pictures of bighorn sheep with their lambs grazing on flower-carpeted slopes, sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens strutting and dancing, herds of lordly elk feeding on the velvet green of a valley floor and drinking from trout-filled streams. Other animals in the tour include ptarmigan and dusky grouse with chicks, songbirds of many varieties, prairie dogs, bison and antelope.

His camera will also take you on a visit to Sand Dune National Monument—a portrayal of shifting sand and shadows that ranks as a work of art, and on an exciting trek in huge flexible boats down the rapids and deep stretches of the Yampa River in Dinosaur National Monument.

The Screen Tour will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

Ethel Davey

Miss Ethel Maude Davey died on Saturday night in her home at Perry Newberry Way and Sixth Avenue after a long illness.

Miss Davey was born in Grass Valley on September 17, 1877. She lived in Oakland for many years with her brother, the late Thomas P. Davey. In 1954 she came to Carmel to make her home with her sister, Miss Mary Olive Davey, her only surviving relative. She was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in All Saints' Episcopal Church with the Reverend David Hill, rector, officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Grass Valley Masonic Cemetery.

School Board Names Mrs. Bennett To Succeed Campbell

The Carmel school board, emerging from executive session at 5:30 o'clock Monday evening, passed a resolution appointing Mrs. Adrian Bennett to the board. She will fill out the four year lacking three months term of Gordon Campbell, who resigned last week following his appointment to the municipal bench in Monterey.

Mrs. Bennett resigned her presidency of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters Tuesday morning since the league by-laws prohibit board members from holding public office.

A native of Minneapolis, Minnesota, where her husband was distributor for a lawn mower company, Mrs. Bennett came to the Monterey Peninsula with her husband in 1952, and the family has lived in Carmel and Carmel Point since that time. Mr. Bennett first had an automobile agency in Monterey and now is representative for Safeway Manufacturing Company, which produces hoists.

There are three children: Adrian III, a freshman at Antioch College who graduated from Carmel High School last spring; Bruce, 16, a student at Carmel High, and Martha, 12, who attends Sunset School.

Mrs. Bennett has served as secretary for the Carmel Red Cross, has been room mother for the P. T. A., den mother for the Cub Scouts, and a committee member for the Brownies.

She says that the League of Women Voters has been her main interest, here and back in Minneapolis.

She graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1939, a major in international relations.

Letters . . .

Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Dr. Walter Lehmann from his son, Klaus, raised in Carmel and now living in New York.

498 West End Ave.
New York 24, N. Y.
October 7, 1959

Dear Dad:

You want to lay a bet, my Dad,
That we'll have meters yet,
how sad!

Just put a nickel in the slot,
And then you've bought a parking spot!

Yes, then we'll be like all the rest . . .

Be just a town which once had zest.

Oh my, the day lies far behind
When in Carmel you once could find

A lot of folks who had a flair
For keeping things "just as they were."

The folks who thought and work'd and fought

To keep what riches never bought:

A town of which the scribes declare . . .

"Its beauty is beyond compare!
It hasn't gone "commercial"
yet."

I ask, my Dad— you want to bet?
Love,
Klaus

Editor, Pine Cone:

Are there any book borrowers who will join a crusade to get a limited parking area assigned to the vicinity of the Carmel Library? There is a ten minute zone in front of the Bank. There certainly should be one in front of, or near, the Library. Numbers count, I am told, so please write or phone the Carmel City Council asking that a green or yellow strip be painted on the curb so that those of us who like to read can have the chance to park long enough to get a book.

CONSTELLATIONS OF THE ZODIAC-SCORPIO, THE SCORPION

BY HOWELL ARMOR

The twisting form of Scorpion, the Scorpion, 24 October to 22 November, is the only zodiacal constellation easy to identify. The curling tail formation caused some to call it the Serpent of Wisdom. Others saw in it the Eagle of Inspiration of Saint John's Gospel, the Eagle of Ezekiel's dream. It is on the meridian about nine on mid-July evenings, making meridian passage about 3:00 p.m. in October.

So this month it is not visible until it rises well after midnight. Follow a line from the southern pointer through the dipper handle half-way across the sky to Antares, brightest star in Scorpion.

Antares is red, of first magnitude, 390 times the diameter of the sun, 170 light years away, and has a faint green companion, visible in a glass. Near Antares and near the Scorpion's tail are several star clusters. The red star was called Kalb al Akrah, heart of the scorpion, and was considered a deputy of Mars, the red planet of war.

Scorpio is in the house of Mars. It is the sign of death of the body, release of the spirit. It is the sign of the generative organs. It is the sign of the Tribe of Dan. In Genesis 49:16,17, Jacob calls Dan the judge of his people, a serpent, an adder. His standard was the serpent; his tribal task, the rearguard in the exodus; Numbers 10:25.

Man found both serpents and birds fascinating. He named several constellations for them. Serpens, the serpent, is East of Scorpion; Hydra, a long sea serpent, is a continuation of Scorpion Westward. Draco, the dragon, coils about the little dipper. There are Apus, the Bird of Paradise; Aquila, the Eagle; Columba, the Dove;

Book of the Dead, the soul is a scorpion, surviving the sting of death. It is the sign of Typhon, the destroyer, and Egyptian sign of self destruction. Early Christians assigned it to Judas Iscariot.

Initiates into the mysteries, the priests and princes of Egypt, wore the uraeus, the Serpent of Wisdom, on their foreheads. The serpent is a universal mystic symbol. American Indians built serpent mounds; the God Quetzalcoatl or Kulkulkan of precolumbian Mexico was dressed as a feathered serpent, crucified on a St. Andrew's cross. Sacred are the hooded cobra of India, the snake god of the Greeks, the Druid serpent, the Midgard snake of Scandinavia, the serpents of Mithras, of the Gnostics, of Orpheus and the Delphic Oracle, the staff of Thoth, the Minoan Goddess of Fertility, the Nagas of Burma, Siam and Cambodia.

The snake about a staff was symbolic of the physician, and the serpent twined staff of Mercury or Hermes persists in the medical caduceus. The ancient sign of the snake with tail in mouth has become the circle of the Eternity of God on the Celtic Cross. The serpent's hibernation and ecdysis are symbols of resurrection and eternal life. In Exodus 4:17 and the Holy Qur'an 7:107, God tells Moses to take his rod in hand wherewith to do the signs of the staff turned serpent before Pharaoh. From Eve and the serpent in Genesis to the serpent in Revelation we find remnants of ophiolatry and ophiology.

Birds' power of flight has ever fired man's admiration and held his respect. The eagle, king of birds for his high flight, his powerful construction and his imagined ability to stare at the full flight of the sun, is the Egyptian falcon, hawk or phoenix. The falcon protected the Pharaoh in painting, sculpture and in his dress. A full round stone carving of the great crowned hawk over 12 feet high still stands in, the court of the temple at Edfour, Egypt, symbol of the sun god Horus. Do not underestimate the vulture, similarly revered. His great wingspread made him, also, protector of royalty. And in that day and hot climate, his duties as scavenger made him important as chief of sanitation. The phoenix rose from his own ashes and preceded the eagle on our Great Seal. The Indian thunderbird lived above the clouds, his wings rumbling like thunder, lightning flashing from his eyes. In Scripture, the dove, the eagle, the raven have parts, the cock crows. The eagle of Jupiter and Zeus typified the sun, and has been used through Caesar, as the emblem of Mars, by other Czars, Emperors, Kings and Republics as symbol of Government. Angels were given eagles' wings to travel swiftly between heaven and earth. Daedalus made eagle's wings for his son, Icarus, but the wax melted in that flight of fancy. Enough!

Scorpio is the sign of Wisdom, of Inspiration. "I know!" Stars: Antares, Dschubba, Shaula.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

AMERICAN RAILROADS

Corvus, the Crow; Cygnus, the Swan; Grus, the Crane; Pavo, the Peacock; Phoenix; Tucana, the Toucan; and even Musca, the Fly; Pegasus, the Flying Horse; and Volans, the Flying Fish. Cancer is the Scarab, sacred flying beetle of Egypt.

Sagittarius, the Archer, is said to be shooting the Scorpion which fatally bit Orion, the Hunter. So Orion cannot be seen when the Archer and Scorpion are in the sky. Scorpion talismans were worn to cure impotence. Scorpion was the sign of the undines, fabulous mermaid flying water sprites. In the where it already exists as in our case, and keep it up.

But it's up to the state to acquire the land or get scenic easements. The beaches and park fund, after the 44 million dollar raid for various log rolling projects in Southern California and the six million dollar Squaw Valley foolishness, has so little left of its sixty million allotment that beach acquisition programs have been cut back fifty percent. Half of our own county's master plan acquisitions have been moved out of the five year to the ten year plan. Owners, growing restive, may find other uses for the proposed beaches and parks.

Under these circumstances, not much can be looked for from the beaches and parks fund for buying land and easements for our proposed National Parkway.

Maybe the state highway department could be persuaded to hand over whatever it takes to keep up Highway 1, since the federal government would assume that responsibility, at least.

At a special meeting Monday night the school board appointed Ted Fehring its chairman. Fehring is the oldest in seniority of the present board. He was elected in May, 1957. George Yates was appointed in June of the same year to fill out Rod Clayton's term when the latter resigned. Grant Fletcher was elected in May, 1958; Richard Snyder in May, 1959, and Mrs. Adrian Bennett was appointed Monday. (See story page seven.) All are serving their first term on the board.

This is the first board in twenty years not to have several veteran members serving second or third terms.

At its meeting Friday morning in Los Angeles, the California State Park Commission established a marine reserve "to protect the natural features of submerged lands surrounding and contiguous to Point Lobos State Park."

This action will prevent skin-diver raids on the underwater gardens at Point Lobos. Credit for it goes to our alert and highly effective conservation group, The Lobos League. —W.C.

Kate Matheson

Miss Kate Matheson, an artist who came to live in Carmel in 1921, died on Monday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Miss Matheson was born in Simcoe, Ontario, Canada, on May 19, 1879. She spent her girlhood in Helena, Montana, then went to New York City to study at the Art Students League.

Later she lived for 13 years in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where her paintings of the bayou country attracted widespread attention. For some years Miss Matheson taught art at Castilleja School in Palo Alto. She moved to Carmel 38 years ago and lived with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Elmer. They made their home at Monte Verde Street and Eleventh Avenue.

Miss Matheson was a member of the League of Women Voters, the Carmel Foundation and the Church of Christ Scientist in Carmel.

In addition to her sister, she is survived by a niece, Mrs. William F. Miller, and a nephew, Frank M. Elmer, both of Glens Falls, New York.

Memorial services for Miss Matheson are to be announced later. Inurnment was in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Miss Matheson are asked to do so in the form of donations to the Carmel Foundation.

The program gets under way at 9:45 o'clock Saturday morning, with five practice sessions for the 14 classes of cars entered. Racing begins at 3:00 o'clock with four skirmishes on tap for the afternoon.

Races every hour on the hour starting at 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning will keep the drivers alert as they pilot three-quarters of a million dollars worth of machinery around the 1.9 mile, nine-turn, European-type course. Six events are scheduled for Sunday.

This will be the final 1959 Northern California sports car racing event for the Pacific Coast Championship.

The Laguna Seca course, which is located on the Salinas-Monterey highway at Fort Ord, has been designed to enable spectators to see more than 70 percent of the track from any spot on the grounds. In addition, ample parking and picnic facilities are provided.

to convert two 40x100 foot lots at the northeast corner of Monte Verde Street and Sixth Avenue into a 21 space off-street parking lot for Pine Inn patrons. The area will be fenced to hide the cars from public view and the fence hidden by vines and planting.

The lots are now in the residence zone. Commissioners were reluctant to give any opinion on spot rezoning of this land for a parking lot. They told Mr. Godwin that in 60 days' time they hope to have their recommendations for a new business district zoning plan adopted by the city council. The new zoning would include special provisions for parking parks they indicated, and requested that Mr. Godwin consider delaying rezoning action.

Other plans considered by the commission yesterday were the converting of two units at Town House Lodge into a lobby and stairwell leading to a swimming pool. These units, according to the plans submitted by owner Howard Healey would be replaced by two new units in the basement. He also wishes to add four additional units below the pool. These will be in a separate building along Dolores Street frontage of the development and have six offstreet parking spaces under a gallery.

Carmel Paint and Wallpaper Company submitted plans to enclose a driveway. A request to place on a bronze plaque with black pebble background identifying the Crocker-Anglo Bank was also studied by commissioners. The bank wishes to leave the Bank of Carmel identification above the entrance and have their own sign at the left side of the doorway.
